By Letters from Ballyshadden of the 7th instant we have an Account, that a Gang of Robbers had a few Days before the Date, broke into the House of Mr. Christopher Creed near Charleville, a Man reputed rich; and finding no more Money than 5 Shillings, most barbarously tormented him to discover his Wealth, which he absolutely refused to do, tho' they thrust a pair of red Tongs up his Fundament, and burnt him so that he died in 9 Days.

A noble and laudable Example, worthy to excite others to the like Acts of Charity.

Peterburg, March 5. The Chancellaria of this City has received Orders from our Emperor at Moscow, to send thither by a Secretary of this Court, all the Archives, &c. belonging to Russia, which were brought hither in the preceding Reigns; which occasions us to surmise that his Imperial Majesty's Return to this City, will not be so sudden as was expected. From hence our Criminals will be condemned to work in the Mines, as in Spain.

From the Evening Post, March 25.

Paris, March 30. The Queen of Spain has written a very gracious Letter to the Dutches de Vendadour, repeating her Thanks for the Care she took of the Princess of Brazil in her Infancy. Her Catholick Majesty at the same Time gives her a particular Account of their Journey, the Exchange of the Princesses, and the Qualities of the Prince of Brazil and the Princess of the Asturia's; in which she expresses the highest Satisfaction. The King of Spain has likewise written some Lines with his own Hand in that Letter, much to the same Purpose as the Queen's.

From the Whitehall Evening Post, March 25.

London, March 25. We are assured that the celebrated Mr. Pope has printed a new, pompous, and elaborate Edition of his famous late Satire, intituled the Dunciad, with a great Number of curious Annotations; all which are expected with the most eager Impatience by the Town; especially as the ingenious Author has greatly amplified the chief Characters; a Proof whereof we have in the following Extract of 18 Lines, which now run thus, &c.

Next where each Science lifts its modern Type,
*H*is*t*ry her Pot, *D*ivinity his Pipe,
 While proud *P*hilosophy repines to show,
*D*ishonest Sight! his Breeches rent below;
*I*mbrown'd with native Bronze, lo *H*enley stands;
 Turning his Voice, and ballancing his Hands!
*H*ow fluent Nonsense trickles from his Tongue?
*H*ow sweet the Periods, neither said, nor sung!
*S*ill break the Benches *H*enley with thy Strain,
 While K—, B—, and W— preach in vain!

Oh thou, Restorer of the good old Stage,
 Preacher at once, and Zany of thy Age!

Oh, worthy thou of Egypt's wife Abodes;
 A decent Priest, where Monkies were the Gods!
 But Fate with Butcher's plac'd thy Priestly Stall,
 Meek modern Faith to murder, hack, and man,
 And bade thee live, to crown Britannia's Praise,
 In Tindal's, Toland's, and in Woolston's Days.

Dublin, March 18. His Majesty having been graciously pleased to sign a new military Establishment for this Kingdom, dated the 28th Day of October last: The several Battalions on this Establishment are placed for equal Pay, and are reduced to the same Numbers, which they consisted of before the late Augmentation; so that each private Man in the three Regiments of Foot, doing Duty in Dublin, are to be paid from that Time One Penny a Day more than had been formerly allowed them on Account of Subsistence.

Wye's Letter verbatim, London, March 27.

Since our last arrived a French Mail.

They write from Cadix, that his Catholick Majesty was on the Water the 8th Instant, when the British Man of War named the Rye entered the Bay, and saluted his Majesty with 21 Guns: Her Commander, Captain Edwards, was immediately admitted on Shore; a Favour which the English coming from Gibraltar have not had of late.

Mean time it is not known whether his Majesty has given any Answer to the Remonstrances made to him concerning the Indulto on the Effects of the Flotilla, and of that now to be laid on those arrived in the Galleons; which, besides the List that has been published of their Cargoes, have brought a considerable Quantity of Gold and Silver which was not registered: And that had the Lima Treasure been added to what is come, the Sum would have been abundantly more immense.

But 'tis hoped his Catholick Majesty will act according to the true Sense and Meaning of the Preliminary Articles, with respect to the laying the Indulto on the said Effects; tho' some pretend to say, that he is for making an Estimate of the Damages and Losses he has been at by the Detention of the Galleons.

We

We hear our Merchants compute the Losses they have sustained by the taking and confiscating their Ships and Cargoes by the Spaniards, in manifest Violation of the Treaties, at near one Million sterl.

There was Yesterday a General Council at St. James's in the King's Presence.

The same Day the Queen, Duke and the Five Princesses assisted at Divine Service, and the Rev. Dr. Ferret preached before them.

The Rev. Mr. Alexander Young Rector of Wic-hambrook, is presented to the Vicarage of East-Church in the Island of Sheppy, in room of Mr. Foster deceas'd, who was a worthy Benefactor to his Parsonage of Crundall, and left his Library and 40 l. a year to his Successor for ever.

We hear from Newcastle upon Tyne of the 24th, That the Magistrates, Clergy and Gentry of that Town and Country, considering the Calamities of the Poor Housekeepers and others, have made the following Collections for their Relief, viz. Given by the Incorporation, 30 l. By Sir Henry Lyddal, 50 l. Gathered by the Clergy of St. Nicholas, 40 l. Of St. John's, 52 l. Of All-Saints, 76 l. Of St. Andrew's, 14 l. Yesterday the Lords deferred the further Consi-deration of the State of the Nation till after the Recess, when it is supposed they will go upon the Affair relating to the Depredations committed by the Spaniards; the Lord Viscount Torrington ha-ving presented to the House a List thereof, as also the Letters from the Admirals to the Admiralty.

'Tis said the Conduct of the Captain of the Rye Man of War, in saluting his Spanish Majesty as a-bove mentioned, is not, as Affairs at present stand, very much approved of.

'Tis currently reported that the Duke Regent of Lorain is dead at Nancy.

The insolvent Debtors Bill, we hear, will be ge-neral.

From the Evening Post, March 27.

Paris, March 26. We hear the Pope has written to a certain Prince of Germany and his Son exhort-ing them, if they have any Regard to the Good of Mother Church, to fill up their vacant Offices with true Catholicks, and to convey the young Prince away privately, lest he should be infected with the Lutheran Heresy, and so the hopefull Crop, which his Holiness and Successors think to reap in that Country, be blighted in the Ear. It is farther said, the old Pontiff desired the Imperial Court to back this pious Design with a Dehortatorium; but his Imperial Majesty will take Time to consider of it. Letters from Italy confirm the Dutches of Par-ma's being with Child; which will make a great Alteration in the Settlement of that Succession, and prove a dreadful Mortification to a certain Princess. Upon the pressing Instances of the King of Great Britain to know the King of Spain's Re-solution, whether it be for Peace or War, the Cardinal de Fleury has declared, that the Negociations at Soissons will shortly be resumed, and with Probability of good Succes, his Catholick Majesty, out of a Motive of Generosity, appearing in better Temper since the Arrival of the Galle-ons. Mean time, four or five Men of War are ex-pected at Cadiz from Russia.

On the 2d Instant his Imperi-al Majesty honoured the Spanish Ambassador, the Duke of Liria, with his Presence at a costly Feast which that Minister gave to a great Number of the Nobility of both Sexes, on Occasion of the Ex-change of the Princesses of Spain and Portugal. This Court is taking the most efficacious Measures to have on Foot an Army of 220,000 Men, to op-pose the Enterprizes of the Grand Signor, a Ru-pture with the Ottomans seeming unavoidable, if Credit may be given to the last Express we have just received from Constantinople, by which we are assured that the Mahometans in general breathe nothing but War.

London, March 27. The Regiment of Dragoons commanded by the Right Hon. the Earl of Stair, is ordered to march to Carlile till farther Orders.
